

Here at CryoWorks, we pride ourselves in our mission to Make it Happen, Make it Easy, and Make it Fun! Our Technical Sales Team drives our mission from the start of a proposal to the end of the project, a component Tim Mast Sr., Founder and Chairman of CryoWorks, considers a key ingredient in our recipe for success. "I started my Cryogenic Piping Career in Sales and Design, and I cannot stress enough how customers come to appreciate having a single point of contact when inquiring about bids, field dimensioning, designing, scheduling, installation, and maintenance" said Tim Mast Sr. With each inquiry that comes to CryoWorks, a Technical Sales Representative provides a prompt reply and begins assisting in any way they can. The Technical Sales Team is equipped to assist on projects of all sizes, from small cryo-sauna applications to rocket launch complexes.

What you can expect from CryoWorks is a skilled sales engineering team that designs safe, fully functional, and reliable systems.

Technical Sales Team Capabilities:

- Knowledgeable single point of contact throughout project life cycle, who can assist with inquiries on detailed drawings, renderings, measurements, installations and delivery schedule.
- Supported by a skilled design department, sales colleagues, and operations team.
- Diverse backgrounds in the cryogenic piping industry from installation/service, engineering, sales and marketing, and mechanical drafting.
- Ability to provide innovative solutions to assist and educate customers for both new and existing applications.
